

West Side Rag

Morning Bulletin: NYCHA Harassment, Suburban Amenities, 'Healthiest' Home on the UWS

Posted on May 20, 2019 at 11:50 am by West Sider

<https://www.westsiderag.com/2019/05/20/morning-bulletin-nycha-harassment-suburban-amenities-healthiest-home-on-the-uws>

Photo by Ellen J. Cohen.

May 20, 2019 Weather: Sunny, with a high of 88 degrees.

Notices:

Concerts, readings and many other local events are on our calendar.

News:

NYCHA tenant Jennifer Calcano says she was sexually harassed by a worker who was supposed to be fixing her apartment. After she reported the harassment, he was transferred, but apparently not for long. "Now, they say he's back working in the complex on West 90th Street with no explanation from the city. So a formal complaint was filed at NYCHA's offices last week." The agency says the complaint is under investigation.

More "suburban" amenities are coming to the UWS, one columnist writes in the Times. Case in point: the new Dahlia at 212 West 95th Street. "One of the Dahlia's biggest selling points? It has its own parking garage. 'You can pull in with your S.U.V., unload and take your things in a private manner,' said Shlomi Reuveni, the president of the company that is handling sales for the building. 'That's very appealing.' And very suburban."